The Cloud Certified Professional (CCP) program is dedicated to excellence in the fields of cloud computing technology, architecture, security, and governance. A collection of courses establish a set of vendor-neutral industry certifications for different areas of specialization. Founded by best-selling author Thomas Erl, this curriculum enables IT professionals to develop real-world cloud computing proficiency. Because of the vendor-neutral focus of the course materials, the skills acquired by attaining CCP certifications are applicable to any vendor or cloud platform.

Course modules in the CCP curriculum are available via private on-site and public instructor-led workshops. A comprehensive self-study program is also available providing self-study kits for each of the course modules, as well as self-study kit bundles for each of the certifications.
